France Moving Troops to Rhine

FINAL HEARING GIVEN GERMANY BY COMMISSION

Reparations Body Deciding
On Alleged Default of
Deliveries

ESSEN TO BE SEIZED

American and English
Forces to Be Withdrawn
As French Advance

Washington, Jan. 8.—A strong hint that American good offices may yet be utilized to prevent, or at least delay, France's threatened military occupation of the Ruhr and the ugly situation that would arise there from now was thrown out today from official sources.

The Hughes suggestion to have the whole reparations situation surveyed by an international commission of experts cannot yet be considered as "dead," it was declared at the state department.

Paris, Jan. 8.—France moved troop reinforcements towards the Rhine today while the inter-allied reparations commission was meeting to give Germany a final hearing on the charge that she is in default of her coal and coke deliveries, pledged under the treaty of Versailles.

It was reported that the French army may be moved towards the Ruhr by easy stages, instead of by a single concerted stroke. If this program is followed Essen, the great industrial city on the western edge of the Ruhr basin and the seat of the Krupp works, may be seized first before the Ruhr is taken over.

Belief is growing here that the American and British armies of occupation at Coblenz and Cologne will be withdrawn when the French move forward. In this event the French and Belgian forces will carry out the movement together, employing about 75,000 men.

Paris, Jan. 8.—The French forces have been made ready to march when Premier Poincare gives the word for the carrying out of his still secret plan for seizing the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

Trains were crowded with officers and men, hurriedly recalled from leave, returning to their posts, and M. Poincare conferred with M. Le Troquer, minister of public works, on final arrangements for the transportation of the civil and military forces.

The French troops on the Rhine have been ordered by General Degoutte to remain in their quarters wherever there appears to be any danger of clashes with the Germans, and every precaution will be taken to avoid demonstrations.

There are several times the number of French forces in the Rhineland as are likely to be required for the Ruhr operations, but all the troops will be held in readiness for instant service, although there is nothing yet to justify the assumption of immediate action.

M. Poincare has repeatedly described the proposed entrance into the Ruhr as chiefly the work of engineers and customs collectors. This is the nucleus, but the military support required necessarily depends upon the French estimate of what resistance the Germans may offer. It is known also that the premier's original idea was modified to make it attractive to the British, but now that France is going in alone, she is under no such restraint.

The government considers it desirable to have the reparations commission declare Germany in voluntary default on coal before acting, but this is expected late today, after the Germans appear before the commission, or tomorrow. The French cabinet will meet again Tuesday and the premier will outline the declaration he will make.

Various considerations may cause Premier Poincare to delay the Ruhr operations until Germany's failure to pay the 500,000,000 gold marks on Jan. 15 further strengthens his hand, but importance is attached to the commission's action on the coal question, which is taken to mean that he would consider recognition of a default is that respect as adequate.

NEW GOVERNOR OF STATE OF OHIO

Vic Donahey

New Philadelphia, O., Jan. 8.—Vic A. Donahey, Ohio's new governor, was born at West Chester 49 years ago. At the age of 12 he moved with his parents and two brothers to New Philadelphia. He attended high school at New Philadelphia, but quit in his third year to learn the printer's trade. Five years later he married Miss Edith Harvey of this city. Donahey's first political job was that of township clerk. After five years he served two terms as county auditor. In 1912 he was elected a member of the constitutional convention and the same year as state auditor. After eight years in this position he was defeated for governor in 1920 and elected in 1922. Mr. and Mrs. Donahey had 12 children, 10 of whom are living.

Four cases were expected to come before the body. The cases of William James and Ralph Nickel, arrested Sunday for assault with intent to rob, were to be considered by the jury with previous arraignment. Both have confessed.

The jury is also considering one case of carrying concealed weapons, one of threatening to kill and one of hog stealing. The jury was expected to make its returns Monday afternoon.

ARRESTED IN RAID AND HELD PRISONER

Sharonville, O., Jan. 8.—More than 100 patrons were held prisoners for two hours by federal prohibition agents while the latter investigated the genuineness of the names they had given following a raid on the Sharon inn, a road house here.

Sidney Munda, proprietor was arrested on charges of selling, bartering, furnishing and possessing liquor and of having maintained a common nuisance. Four of the guests were arrested on liquor charges.

The agents took no chances on the patrons giving fictitious names and went so far as to record numbers of licenses of automobiles parked at the roadhouse. All patrons will be used as witnesses.

FOUR MEMBERS OF MURDER MOB ARE IDENTIFIED

Arrests Impending in
Louisiana as Government
Probe Continues

OFFER IMMUNITY

Complete Confession Will Win Freedom for Con-
spirator.

Bastrop, La., Jan. 8.—Four actual members of the "hooded mob," which brutally murdered Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards, of Mer Rouge, after barbaric torture, have been identified by Department of Justice investigators. It was learned authoritatively today.

The four men are under constant surveillance by government agents and their arrests are imminent.

A mass of evidence has been gathered against the quartette, involving them in the fiendish crime, and federal agents now are closing the loopholes through which they might escape justice on technicalities. Whenever this work is completed the blow will fall.

The arrest of this quartette will be the signal for a number of additional arrests of alleged accomplices. The latter will be charged with being accessories to the murders through actions, either prior to the crime or as guilty in hiding the murders.

An offer of complete immunity, it was learned, will be offered to the first mob member who confesses his part in the crime.

THREE ARE DEAD AND 2 INJURED IN AUTO SMASH

Automobile Falls Through
Viaduct In Cleveland
Sunday Night

Cleveland, Jan. 8.—Three persons are dead today and two others are in a hospital seriously injured, following an auto accident on the Harvard Avenue viaduct at East 26th street last night. The automobile plunged through the railing and landed on the rails of the Newburg and South Shore railroad forty feet below. The dead are Mrs. Christiana Blaha, 35; Mrs. Ruth Urdill, 22, and John Urdill, 45. The injured James Blaha, 38, driver of the car and his daughter, Florence, 5. The little girl shielded by the arms of her dead mother, thus escaped instant death.

Hard packed snow had raised the level of the street almost level with the curbing, and when the car skidded, the rail afforded practically no resistance. The dead and injured were found by workmen of the American Steel and Wire Company, shortly after the crash.

NEWS OF ARREST OF SON CAUSES DEATH

Coshocton, O., Jan. 8.—A few minutes after reading of the arrest of his son, Frank Barret Carman in New York City in connection with the theft of a half million dollars worth of jewels from Mrs. C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf, of Buffalo, Abraham L. Carman, dropped dead at his home here Sunday.

Mr. Carman had been suffering from heart trouble and members of the family had kept papers concerning the affair from him. Sunday morning, however, he secured a copy of the Coshocton Tribune, containing an account of his son's misfortune. It proved to much for his weakened health.

New York, Jan. 8.—Frank Barret Carman, actor-dancer, held in connection with the $500,000 jewel robbery from Mrs. C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf, wife of a Buffalo capitalist, was discharged by Magistrate McQuade today.

EX-NEWSBOYS HEAD HUGE COMBINE

Oris and Mantis van Sweringen

The consolidation of five large railroad systems into one of the largest systems of the Mississippi River has brought into the public eye the two brothers heading the combine—Oris P. and Mantis J. Van Sweringen of Columbus, Ohio, two practically un-heard-of financiers. They obtained a common school education in Geneva, Ohio, where later they sold newspapers for a living. Going to Cleveland, 20 years ago, they entered the real estate business in a small way, and it was not until they interested capitalists in the purchase of a large tract of land near Cleveland that they began to attract attention. Now their interests operate and control the New York, Chicago and St. Louis, the Toledo, St. Louis and Southwestern, the Lake Erie and Western, the Port Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville and the Chicago and State Line railroads, all of which they have consolidated into one system.

POLICE SEEK HUSBAND OF WOMAN BRUTALLY MURDERED IN HOME

Mrs. Evelyn Szabo Found Beaten to Death in Beavertown
—Husband Later Arrested Escapes—Shambles
Burned To Ground

Dayton, O., Jan. 8.—The body of a man struck and killed at 10 o'clock at Millers Ford, four miles south of Dayton, was partially identified as that of John Szabo, being hunted in connection with the brutal slaying of his wife Sunday morning.

Spectacles and case found in the clothing were identified as those having recently been sold to John Szabo, by a large department store.

The man removed his coat and as the train thundered by literally threw himself on the tracks in front of the engine. Death was instantaneous.

Positive identification will be attempted this afternoon. The body was removed to Miamiburg.

Mrs. Szabo was beaten to death by a hammer. Her skull was crushed and all ribs on the left side were broken.

Szabo was arrested on the charges of Gertrude Miller Sunday morning following the murder of his wife but it remained undiscovered until night fall. Szabo escaped from the constable and this morning the house caught fire and burned to the ground with everything in it.

The woman's body had, however, been taken to the morgue last evening.

Dayton, O., Jan. 8.—The shambles in which Mrs. Evelyn Szabo was brutally murdered with a hammer Sunday was burned to the ground at 5 o'clock this morning, supposedly in an effort to cover up the traces of the Sunday crime. Police are hunting for her husband, John Szabo, 54, who escaped.

A family quarrel is said to have led up to the crime, which is described by police and sheriffs as the most brutal in the annals of Montgomery County.

Szabo had been placed under arrest as he was locking up his house yesterday morning, following the commission of the crime. He was to answer charges preferred by Gertrude Miller, 14-year-old neighbor girl who acted as his housekeeper while Mrs. Szabo, was visiting in Chicago. He submitted quietly to the arrest on that charge but subsequently escaped from Constable J. L. McClelland, who returned to the home Sunday evening in quest of his prisoner and then discovered the murder.

A nine-year-old son of the slain woman was the only eye witness. He is an imbecile and had been locked in the house with his dead mother. The body had been wrapped in a comfort and rolled under the bed.

The home which was sumptuously furnished was located in Beavertown which has no fire protection. How the fire started no one knows. Szabo was also known as John Kemp and he worked at the National Cash Register plant.

Walls of the home were spattered with blood, pictures were torn from the walls, the rugs were disarranged as was the heavy furniture.

A post mortem shown the woman's skull fractured in a number of places, all ribs on the left side were crushed and a hammer with bloodstains on it was regarded as the instrument of death. The boy was taken to the hospital and held as a witness although unable to talk intelligently.

ITALY SEEKS TO CHECK THE FRENCH

London, Jan. 8.—Italy is trying to persuade France not to move her Rhineland army towards the Ruhr on Wednesday after Germany has been officially declared in default of 1922 coal and coke deliveries, it was learned in authoritative quarters this afternoon.

The Italians consider that the coal default is not sufficiently serious to justify such a drastic penalty as military occupation of the great Ruhr coal fields.

It is understood the Italians are urging the French to hold off military action until January 15 when Germany is expected to default upon the gold payment of reparations due on that date.

COASTER KILLED

Akron, O., Jan. 8.—While coasting, Silas Stotler, 9, met almost instant death when he was struck by an automobile. A playmate escaped.

OREGON RECOVERING FROM WORST FLOOD SINCE 1890

Lowlands of State Are Inundated and Farm Houses Carried Away in Torrential Rains In One Week

Portland, Ore., Jan. 8.—Oregon is recovering today from its worst flood since 1890. Lowlands over the state are inundated farm houses have been carried away and bridges toppled. Business is at a standstill in many small towns. The damage will approximate $250,000.

Torrential rains, falling steadily for a week, melted the snow on hillsides and mountains and turned streams into raging cataclysms.

Trains have been held up several hours due to washouts and slides. Between four and six inches of rain has fallen in Oregon in seven days. The Willamette river has risen to twenty and eight tens feet—five feet above flood stage.

Assumes Office at Noon
Monday With Brief
Inaugural

OTHERS SWORN IN

Oath of Office Administered
Simultaneously By
Chief Justice

Columbus, Jan. 8.—A. V. Donahey, Democrat, of New Philadelphia, and former state auditor, today became Ohio's fiftieth governor.

Inaugural ceremonies took place at noon on the west steps of the state capitol, and this was followed immediately by a public reception in the state house rotunda.

The exercises began at 11:30 on a covered platform, the 166th infantry band opening with a concert. Rev. O. L. Lindenberg of Shepard M. E. church, which Mr. Donahey and his family attended during his residence at Shepard while he was state auditor, delivered the invocation.

At 11:55 a. m., the retiring governor, Davis, presented Mr. Donahey with his commission, and Chief Justice C. T. Marshall administered the oath of office to the new governor and to other newly-elected state officials. The governor's salute of 17 guns boomed forth at noon, just as the new governor was being sworn in.

The new governor followed with his inaugural address, in which he pledged himself to be "governor of all the people, survive or perish."

The inaugural ceremonies proper closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and benediction.

During the public reception Governor Donahey and his aids occupied a platform that had been erected in the center of the state house rotunda. It was surrounded by cedars, palms, ferns and flowers.

The house and senate convened at 10 o'clock today. Lieutenant Governor Earl D. Bloom, Democrat, of Bowling Green, was sworn in as presiding officer of the senate, succeeding Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester.

TOP OF MOUNTAIN IS BLOWN OFF

Anchorage, Alaska, Jan. 8.—The top of Pavlov mountain, Aleutian peninsula, has been blown off by a volcanic eruption, according to wireless messages received here, which said the volcano had become active, lighting the sky for many miles with the glow from the crater, reflected from the snow-capped peaks. The severe earthquake shock felt here recently is believed to have resulted from the activity of this volcano. Navigators familiar with volcanic activity in the Aleutian section expressed the belief that phenomenon might result similar to that of 1896, when Dogoslof island disappeared and rose alternately from the sea. Pavlov mountain is situated on one of the narrowest portions of the peninsula.

SIXTY INJURED AS TRAIN HITS STALLED TRUCK

Lake Shore Electric Cars
Smash Head-on Into
Automobile

Fremont, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Three persons are in a critical condition here this morning, and may die, while ten others are seriously injured and about fifty less seriously as a result of a collision last night five miles east of here, A Lake Shore electric train chashed head on into a motor truck, stalled on the track. The most seriously injured are William Helm, Fremont; Matilda Cizen, Detroit, and Clarence A. Degrat, motorman, of the train, Fremont.

The first car of the train left the track when the collision occurred.

The truck, driven by Henry Field, of Detroit, bearing Michigan license No. 41138, was one of five taking office furniture to the Canton Plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Company. He said that he ran out of gas and was on the running board of the truck putting up a red light when the train bore down on him coming fifty miles an hour. He jumped and was injured by flying timbers.

The truck was thrown fully two hundred feet.

The injured motorman said that he did not see the truck until almost upon it.

CURTIS COMPANY HELD NOT GUILTY

Washington, Jan. 8.—The Curtis Publishing Company was held not guilty by the Supreme Court of the United States today of violations of anti-trust laws in its contract method of regulating distributing of its magazines.

The federal trade commission had ordered the Curtis Publishing Company to cancel its contracts with distributors of its magazines, preventing them from selling magazines of competitors on the ground that the effect of such contracts was to lessen competition and tend to create a monopoly which was in violation of the Clayton anti-trust law.

TWO CONFESS TO PART IN WILBERFORCE HOLDUP

William James, 35, and Ralph Nickens, 20, both colored, of Wilberforce, came before the Grand Jury Monday morning on charges of assault with intent to rob, following their arrests early Sunday morning after an alleged assault on John Watkins, 58, colored, of near Wilberforce. The pair was arrested by Sheriff participation in the crime and aids in the prosecution of his co-conspirators.

A decision to offer the immunity was reached at a secret conference between Attorney General A. V. Cocco, head of the state's legal forces, his staff and Department of Justice agents. The possibility of an early confession is imminent. State authorities were of the opinion that one or more would "break." The immunity grant, however will not be extended to more than one man.

A holiday in the "open hearings" proceedings caused by the adjournment from Saturday to Tuesday, was being used by the state's prosecutors to arrange their case for the remainder of the week.

Beginning, the state will produce evidence involving the Ku Klux Klan in the murders, it was announced. This is to be accomplished through witnesses who will testify the black hoods worn by the mob were a regular garb of the Klan when its members went on "vengeance missions."

Numerous witnesses will be produced by the state, it was learned, to show that the Klan in Morehouse parish always wore black hoods on whipping expeditions.

Witnesses will also testify that the Klansmen who captured Daniel and Richards several weeks prior to their murder, also wore the same type of hoods. On this first kidnapping, the two murdered men were warned not to continue their opposition to the Klan.

Although there was no session of the "open hearing" today, Bastrop continued to be crowded with visitors. Many came merely to view the surroundings and in this number were scores of automobile parties from beyond the state's borders. They added greatly to the transient population.

The town remained quiet, but with an ever present under current of suspense. The demobilization of one of the four national guard units in Morehouse parish created little more than a ripple of excitement. Its return to civilian life was not unexpected because of the recent addition of a cavalry troop to the army units here. The infantry sent home had been stationed at Mer Rouge where a strong detachment of cavalry remains.

A visit of state pathologists to Lake La Fourche, where the bodies of Daniel and Richards were found produced no new evidence. The professional men had hoped to find further evidence on the shore of the lake, but were unsuccessful.

UNEMPLOYED IN LONDON STAGE DEMONSTRATION

London, Jan. 8.—London Sunday was the scene of one of the largest demonstrations of unemployed witnessed in recent years. It was held under auspices of the Labor party and the trades unions. There also were 200 demonstrations by unemployed in various parts of the country.

In London six separate processions converged on Trafalgar Square with banners playing and banners flying presenting a wonderful sight, notwithstanding the adverse weather conditions. The hole of the Charing Cross area was blocked.

Speeches were delivered from three platforms and resolutions were adopted demanding that the government call Parliament into session and take other steps to remedy the unemployment situation. There are no disorders.

SANFORD IS CHOSEN FOR SUPREME COURT VACANCY

Washington, Jan. 8.—President Harding has definitely determined to name United States District Judge Edward Terry Sanford, Tennessee, to the vacancy on the Supreme Court, it was learned authoritatively Sunday. The nomination is expected to go to the Senate early this week.

The President, it is said, changed to the point of view of Chief Justice William H. Taft that a Southern Republican should go on the Supreme Court bench to succeed Justice Pitney, after he had been unable to settle on an Eastern man for the place, and after Interior Secretary Albert B. Fall had declined the position.

SHOWS NECESSITY OF PRAYER DURING SERMON AT CHURCH

There was a large attendance at all the Sunday services at the First M. E. Church, where Evangelistic meetings are now being held.

The big chorus choir rendered excellent music at both morning and evening services. In the evening the children's chorus with several little soloists delighted the audience. Mr. Seebert and Miss Keeler sang a duet.

The morning sermon by the pastor, Dr. G. A. Scott, was on the subject of prayer. He said: "Prayer is universal. It is a necessity just as air and water are necessities. Even the animals lift up a cry for help in times of peril. But prayer was not meant for times of peril only.

"Should one pray from a sense of duty? Yes. We read and study of ten when we do not feel like it and find that the intellect is quickened. 'Keep up the habit of prayer. God is always at hand. Pray about your plans and proposals and you will realize God's steady power and guidance. He puts a steady hand on the man who prays.

"It is good to come from the chill of the world into the warmth of the love of God. Prayer throws light upon the word God and you will find that although some passages may be above your comprehension they are not contrary to your reason.

Prayer is a great character-builder. Take time to pray. Your spiritual life cannot be maintained without it. God pity the children who never hear their parents pray."

The speaker then related some remarkable answers to prayer and appealed to the church for more prayers for families and the community.

The Tuesday afternoon prayer meetings will be held in the following houses: Mrs. F. C. Shaw, Chestnut St.; Mrs. Josephine Oglesbee, West 3rd St.; Mrs. William Compton, W. Main St.; Mrs. Mary Fudge, N. Gallo-way St.; Mrs. John Gardner, Springfield Pike; Mrs. William Mider, Whiteman St.; Miss Jennie Thomas, E. 3rd St.; and Mrs. Frank Hurley, Hill Street.

BURGLAR ENTERS HOME; GETS HAUL

A burglar, who is believed to have used a pass key to effect an entrance to the home of John Slagle, 321 West Church Street, escaped with $70 in cash and some clothing belonging to John Hisinger, a roomer at that address, Saturday night.

The burglar is said to have taken a box in which the clothing was contained, and the money was also concealed in that box. Patrolman Fred Jones found the box still containing the clothing in the rear of the D. and X. traction freight station on West Main street, Sunday morning.

The robbery occurred while both Slagle and Hisinger were down town early Saturday evening.

BOY SCOUTS TO MEET.

Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America, will meet at the Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. The meeting has been advanced from Thursday night.

MINISTERIAL BODY ENDORSES STAND ON ARBUCKLE FILMS

The attitude of Superintendent of County Schools, H. C. Aultman, and of State Superintendent of Instruction, Vernon Reigel, in barring the "Fatty" Arbuckle films, was endorsed by the members of the Xenia Ministerial Association, at the meeting held at the First Presbyterian Church Monday morning.

It was decided by the pastors at the meeting that all churches of the city accept the invitation of the First United Presbyterian Church, to attend the services on January 23, to be held in honor of the Rev. D. D. Dodds retiring pastor of that church. "Since the Rev. Mr. Dodds is held in high honor by the association, it was decided that we show evidence of our appreciation of him by having part in this service," said a local pastory Monday.

President Gregg, of Wilberforce University, and Professor Johnson, of the Religious Committee of the University, were introduced to the body, and spoke in appreciation of the services rendered by the local ministers in conducting services at the University. In return for the favor they offered to give two entertainments at two of the local churches, the program to consist of "Spirituals," Negro folk melodies, by a Wilberforce student chorus. The dates, January 23, at Trinity M. E. Church, and January 30 at the Second United Presbyterian Church, as suggested by the school officials, for the entertainments were accepted by the Association, the public being invited to attend the entertainments.

The Rev. Dodds gave a paper before the body, on the subject, "By-Products of the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your drugist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

It is hoped that all members of the Post and Corps will attend the ceremonies, in invitation being also extended to members of Albert Gallo-way Camp, S. of V., and Lucretia Garfield Tent, Daughters of Veterans and to friends of the patriotic organization.

CUNO'S NON-WAR PACT.

France has rejected the German non-war pact that solemn pledge by all Powers interested in the Rhine that for thirty years none of them should wage war on another unless the people of the nations involved should so authorize in a popular referendum. "To my regret," says the German Chancellor, "France has seen fit to reject our proposal."

His regret, of course is understandable, but neither Chancellor Cuno nor any other German should be surprised by the French refusal. Belgium it will be recalled, had German guarantees against invasion, but they became a "scrap of paper." In the last decade France and the world have had some revealing experiences with Germany.

Credit, faith, mutual trust and understanding are based on character among nations as among men. As a nation Germany has become a moral bankrupt. The German word is not good; any German proposal is regarded as tainted. This is all very sad and maybe unjust, but it is so and Germany has herself to blame.

For four years she has dodged, whined and evaded and looked for loopholes. Her disarmament had to be forced. Four years ago the Peace Conference was about to meet. In January, 1920, the treaty went into effect. It was January, 1921, before the Allies could force the fixing of reparations at 226,000,000,000 gold marks, payable in forty-two years. The Germans did not pay, so in April, 1921, the sum was cut to 132,000,000,000 gold marks. Still protesting and wailing, always threatening to "go Red," Germany was given a partial moratorium at Cannes in January, 1922, and again has failed.

Where a pledge could be broken it has been broken; where evasion has been possible Germany has evaded. Small wonder that France, watching the Teuton sign, repudiate and evade with the final purpose of paying nothing, has refused to bother with Cuno's pact and have her hands tied for forty-five to sixty years. She prefers the security she can make for herself to what she regards as another more than doubtful German pledge.

FOR AN IRISH PEACE.

The terms of peace laid down to "republicans" and "irregulars" by William Cosgrave, head of the Irish Free State, are neither more nor less stern than any self-respecting Government would offer. The disciples of DeValera may have peace any time they want it, through and by submission to the law.

The Anglo-Irish Treaty must be accepted. It is the charter and the birth certificate of the Free State. Arms must be put away. There must be no interference with elections. All pretense at exercising the powers of government in opposition to the Free State must end.

These conditions are fundamental. The Free State wants no patched-up peace and does well to reject it. There is to be no compromise with murder, and so far as the Dublin government is concerned, there is nothing to arbitrate.

These terms may not end the campaign of ambush, riot and destruction at once, but when they do end these disorders, it will be a permanent ending. The world outside Ireland will approve them.

ARMOUR QUILTS AS PACKING COMPANY HEAD.

On Tuesday, F. Edson White became the president of Armour & Co., one of the biggest packing concerns in the world.

J. Ogden Armour, who has directed the destinies of the business since his father, Philip D. Armour, Sr., died in 1921, retires from the presidency and becomes chairman of the board. Philip D. Armour, 3d, was designated first vice president.

Mr. White will have under his direction not only Armour & Co. of Illinois, with its more than a billion dollars of business each year, but also Armour & Co. of Delaware, the newly organized subsidiary.

If the proposed purchase of Morris & Co. is consummated, Mr. White will be the head of the greatest packing industry ever created.

The new president's history is like that of dozens of other men who have started in the slime and dirt of the lowest round of "Packingtown" and climbed to the ownership of vast fortunes and the control and management of almost untold millions.

The passing of J. Ogden Armour from the active control of the company ends for him a period of more than thirty-five years devoted to development of the industry.

Besides remaining as chairman of the board Mr. Armour will devote his time to his other business enterprises.

GRAPEFRUIT AT MORN MAKES DOCTORS FORLORN.

They say if you eat an apple a day you keep the doctor away. But what about the grapefruit?

As a fact it is the rhyme, the aptness of the thought, that has helped make the apple famous, with all due respect to the advertising power of Mother Eve. "A grapefruit each day keeps the doctor away," had it been sent trippingly from the tongue of America, would have spelled health and happiness throughout the nation, and incidentally have developed a great industry of countless value, to our railroads, to our shipping, to our farmers—in fact, to all the people in every section of the country.

Of course, there is no rivalry between the apple and the grapefruit. Both are health giving and delicious. One should be eaten in the morning and the other at night.

Clemenceau, the Tiger of France, announces that grapefruit is the most vitalizing and health giving of all foods, and such an endorsement, coming from one who has demonstrated his belief in the practical application of beneficial food theories by eating onion soup for breakfast is worthy of consideration.

Millions of Americans would be healthier and happier if they ate grapefruit every day. Medical men say it is the most beneficial of all fruits.

Sixty-five newspaper offices throughout the United States now operate radio broadcasting stations.

Statistics show that Cincinnati receives 97 per cent. of its daily milk supply by means of auto trucks.

The gas industry used 10,000,000 tons of coal and approximately 900,000,000 gallons of oil during the year 1921.

Severe coast storms and lack of freighting facilities are greatly handicapping the shipping business in and around Boston.

During the year 1921 more than 313,000,000 feet of lumber was used in the manufacture of automobiles and trucks in the United States.

TURNING IT OVER TO SOMEONE NOT SO HEAVILY ENCUMBERED ALREADY

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

A letter was received by Xenia City school officials from Lewis D. Bonebrake, State Superintendent of Schools, yesterday, which contained the statement that Mr. Bonebrake has just assigned the Xenia High School the first grade and that he thought the school curriculum was the most satisfactory in the state.

The big clock in the Court House tower, which marks the time for the city is a time piece of splendid quality. Since it was put in position it has varied but a few seconds each month and it is accurate to an unusual degree, requiring but little attention and regulation.

A deal has been consummated by which the Baldwin Automobile Company has come into possession of the old Hopkins property at the corner of Church and Whitman Streets, formerly occupied as a carriage factory by the Xenia Buggy Company. We understand the consideration to be $2,450.

Mr. W. E. Cox, the C. H. and D. ticket agent together with his family has made arrangements to spend the winter at St. Augustine, Florida.

Make Your Own Creams.

I should like to advise every woman to make her own cold creams. In these days the question of expense appeals to all of us, and home made creams are cheaper, as well as better. Besides, we all need a certain amount of cold cream, not that it could ever take the place of the old fashioned soap and water, but simply because modern cities are so full of dust and grime that oil as well as water is needed to cleanse the skin.

There are two kinds of cream—European and American. The European kinds are usually vanishing creams. Personally, I do not like them as well.

I prefer a rather heavy cream with a great deal of oil for nourishing the skin and very little soda, if any at all; and for cleaning, a light, oily cream that is easily wiped off the face or washed out.

Here's the formula for the nourishing cream, for wrinkles, dry skin, chaps, sunburn, general neglect of the complexion.

Rose Water ..... 4 ounces
Almond Oil ..... 4 ounces
Spermaceti ..... 1 ounce
White Wax ..... 1 ounce
Benzoin ..... 1 drachm
Borax ..... 30 grains

You probably know how to make this. Melt the waxes until they blend with the oil. Get the rest of the ingredients lukewarm, take from the heat pour the water slowly into the oils, stir and beat until ready to congeal then pour off into jars to cool and harden. An ideal cream, this, and very costly if you purchased such a quality ready made. You can, if wish, use olive oil instead of almond, it's cheaper and quite as good if you do not dislike its faint odor. Perfume with the rose water would

THE POET.

I read an ode by Seacock-Sage—it is the proper thing to read him; his works just now are all the rage, and wild applause the highbrows feed him. I read that epic to and fro, from right to left and down the middle, I greatly strove its sense to know, and still it was a beastly riddle. "The way this poet fumes and rants, imputing souls to tiger-lilies," I said in anger, to my aunts, "must give all thoughtful men the willies. One line in ten is fine and grand, and might be written by a master; if t'other nine you'd understand, you'd have to wear a porous plaster. Life is too short to read a bard who balls you up with far-fetched phrases: I'll throw this volume in the yard, and Seacock-Sage may go to blazes." When I am talking to my aunts I tell the truth, as I desecrate it; but when I go to Cultures haunts I know the truth and yet deny it. That evening at the Highbrow Club I boosted works of Seacock-Sage's, and said he was a gifted dub whose fame would thunder down the ages. I feared they'd think my brow was low if once I started to jaw him, they'd say I lacked the sense to know a first class poet when I saw him. I wouldn't give ten cents a ton for all the odes this bard is showing, but we are rabbits, every one, and follow where the crowd is going.

Today's Talk

The Task of Happiness.

"Two men looked out from prison bars;
One saw mud, the other stars."

Just so far as is possible we should all become artists in happiness. It is a task as exacting and as difficult as the art of painting or of music—with the same requisite, that we must be born with talent for it.

Happiness blooms in fertile soil. It may be soil in which the flowers of sadness and the thistles of disappointment and despair have often grown tall. But where this thing of happiness is made to grow, its pungent odors and exquisite beauties cast their spell over all.

So that happiness does indeed become a task—but one which floods the soul with health and spurs every faculty of the mind and body to the best achievement.

Beyond, and far above the mud of failure, are always to be found the stars of happiness!

What a wealth of beauty is hourly passed by in this workaday world.

There are those who daily wade through the richness of happiness, not knowing and complaining that life is not worth the living.

All you have to do is to reach out a little, bear a little, feel a little, love a little—and behold a tiny plant of happiness is born to the light of heaven right where you are.

Then your task begins. Will you be very happy or remain merely passively content?

Caged in that restless frame of yours just remember that when you look for the stars, you must look up! Happiness is looking up.

COLUMBUS SCHOOL WINS EASILY OVER CENTRAL QUINTETTE

Xenia Central High basketball team was not even good enough to get a field goal against the crack East High five of Columbus at the new high school gym Saturday night, the visitors winning handily 18 to 2.

Two fouls tossed by LeSourd out of a flock of chances, kept the blue and white tossers from being completely shutout. The Columbus clan did not guard so carefully as to not permit the locals a shot but of the many openings the blue and white basketekers had, they were not able to locate the net with even one of them.

The game was interesting during the first half even though the visitors were well in the lead. The foulshooting of Keifer, who made six out of seven attempts good from the free-throw line, in this half, and also his field goal, kept the visitors out in front, but they scored all their points in the first quarter. In the second quarter, LeSourd tossed the two foul goals that represented Xenia's scoring efforts while the Columbus crowd did not score. The third and fourth quarters saw the visitors really assume an imposing lead. They captured four of their five field goals in this half, while the locals were shooting desperately from all angles with no success.

Old Man Experience will have to take care of Coach Earl Burgher's outfit before many games will be chalked up in the win column. Lads who are usually good shots at the hoop seem to be the victims of stage fright in the games, a natural result of a green team, such as is representing the school this year, which would be overcome by the experience to be acquired as the season progresses. The lineup and summary: Xenia—2 Woolary ..... L. F. ..... Dolby LeSourd ..... R. F. ..... Keifer Schwab ..... C. ..... Joseph Culbreth ..... L. G. ..... Evans Ballentyne ..... R. G. ..... Stearns Substitutions: Xenia—Zell for Ballentyne, Muterspaw for Woolary; Perrine for Muterspaw, Smith for Currie, Ballentyne for Schwab; Columbus—Whitacre for Joseph, Joseph for Dolby, Field goals: Keifer 2, Joseph 2, Whitacre 1. Foul Goals: Keifer 8 out of 11; LeSourd 2 out of 8, Perrine 0 out of 5; Currie 0 out of 1. Referee: Reese, Denison; Umpire, Cresswell, Cedarville.

Playing preliminary to the Xenia High and the East High, Columbus game at the new high gym Saturday night the McKinley Jr., High defeated the Beaver Creek freshman 13 to 10 in a hotly contested game.

The game was close and played fast, furnishing an extra appetizer for the crowd of fans on hand. The first half ended with the score 4 to 2 in favor of Coach Black's lads. Cyphers kept the visitors in the running by his foul shooting while Smith starred for the locals with five goals. Parks at center also played a good game. Line-up: McKinley (13) Beaver Creek (10) Houston ..... L. F. ..... Masters Smith ..... R. F. ..... Cyphers ..... Parks ..... C. ..... Mirand Routzong ..... L. G. ..... Thompson Henrie ..... R. G. ..... Rousch Substitutions: Xenia, Hagler for Routzong; Marshall for Henrie. Scoring: Xenia, Smith 5, Parks 1. Fouls: Parks 1, Beaver Creek, Cyphers 1. Fouls 8. Referee, L. Rachford. Scorer, L. Wones.

McKinley Seventh grade basketball team defeated the Xenia Eagles 13 to 0 in the preliminary at High School Gym Saturday night. The Eagles started as though they would give the Seventh graders sturdy opposition but the defense of the Eagles weakened and the scoring machine of the school lads began working at high speed. Higgins led the attack with two sensational fielders, and the rest of the team also aided in the attack. The initial half ended 5 to 0 with the Eagles trailing. In the second half the Seventh graders, strengthened on offense and scored 8 points to 0 for the opponents. Line-up: Eagles (0) McKinley (13)

Cedarville College, defeated here by the Boring-Yanks, a few weeks ago, reversed the tables on the Xenia aggregation at Cedarville, Friday night, winning 22 to 20.

Cedarville took the lead at the outset and held it throughout the game, although at times the Xenia tossers put this advantage to but a single point. Currie and Arthur starred for Cedarville and Derrick and Muterspaw for the Boring-Yanks.

The Boring-Yanks were handicapped by the absence of several players. The lineup and summary:

CHINESE COOLIE INVADES ISLE OF TAHITI IS WORD

Los Angeles, Jan. 8.—Wonder Isle of French Polynesia!

"That is the Island of Tahiti, which, according to Herbert Moesbury writer and artist, is destined to become a Chinese coolie settlement."

Moesbury has just returned to Los Angeles to take up his residence after a year in nothing but a lion skin on a small plantation in the interior of Tahiti.

The Tahitian, being too lazy to compete effectively with the coolie in the copra business, according to Moesbury, has elected to doze beneath his banyan tree (while the Chinaman works and lives) and in this blissful state is dying gradually as a race.

Moesbury declares that the French Colonial Office is indifferent about the Tahitian and would just as soon see him superseded by the Chinese.

Spanish influenza took its "death sweep" about 6,000 natives when it raged in the South Seas, according to Moesbury, who pointed out that the Tahitians generally are a superb race physically. During the same period but two Chinese are said to have died of the same disease.

The Tahitians rank among the best "movie" critics in the world, Moesbury says. For the pittance of three francs they can see pictures which were forgotten by the American makers 10 years ago. But the Tahitian is "wise" and calls them "old man" pictures.

The "blood and thunder" movie stuff is said to have made a great hit with the natives on the island of Tahiti, and comedy pictures almost set them crazy with joy, Moesbury says.

Until the tricolor came to the island the only city of importance on the island is said to have been Tahiti, and the natives openly worshipped one god, Oro, a mystic deity, whose face they did not know, but in whose honor they erected images.

FORT SAM HOUSTON BIGGEST ARMY POST

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 8.—Historic Fort Sam Houston, Cynosure of the military world since its recent consolidation with Camp Travis here, is the largest military post in the United States. Major-General E. M. Lewis, commander of the Eighth Corps Area, of which this post is headquarters is authority for this information.

It has been disclosed that virtually every man connected prominently with the achievements of the United States Army during the last 65 years, has served at this post at some time or other during his career.

In the historic old clock tower, situated in the center of the quadrangle, can be found written and carved on the winding stairs that lead to the balcony, such names as Robert E. Lee, John J. Pershing, Frederick Dent Grant, Frederick Runston, August Thomas, Phil Sheridan and scores of others.

If one would have luck while in the service it is essential that one's name be scribbled or carved some place in or near the tower, is a traditional superstition with army men here.

Many of the names of army officers now enshrined in the hearts of Americans as a result of brave deeds performed on the battlefield were made legible when their owners were "shavetails," or second lieutenants, just from school.

Styles BY LENORE

You may not suspect it, but the costume pictured today is capable of deceiving you. In an altogether praise-worthy way, however, it has but to unbutton the circular tunic from around the waist and remove it to the shoulders, attaching it to the two buttons at the neck, and voila! you have a frock which may be adjusted to the day's weather models.

This is a French idea for a sports dress, and it is a good idea for traveling.

Dark blue Canton crepe is used for the bodice and twill cloth in the same color makes the skirt and tunic, and trims the bodice.

GRAND JURY STARTS PROBE OF MURDER

Painesville, O., Jan. 8.—The Lake County Grand Jury today began its investigation of the "Mentor marsh murder," in which Mrs. Henry J. Burns of Cleveland, was buried alive in a shallow grave. More than forty witnesses have been summoned to appear. Henry Burns, the husband, arrested on the day of the discovery of the crime is held in county jail here, charged with murder, but protests his innocence. He is a well-to-do Cleveland business man.

COLONEL LAWRENCE ENLISTS AS BRITISH PRIVATE

Col. T. E. Lawrence C.B., D.S.O.

Colonel T. E. Lawrence, C. B., D. S. O., whose brilliant and super-heroic achievements in uniting the Arab tribes against Turkey during the World War won him renown—praise from the Allies and 7,000 pounds sterling reward for his head from the Turks—has been heard from again. This romantic figure—student, archaeologist, linguist, diplomat, and soldier—has been serving for the past four months as a humble British Tommy, both to get freedom for writing and to get new material. His original manuscript was stolen from him three years ago on a train. His identity, for he used an assumed name, was discovered during a kit inspection, when an officer noticed that he had books in English, French, Italian, German and Arabic in his possession.

STATE EXECUTIVE PROMISES ENTIRE LAW ENFORCEMENT

Governor Donahey in his inaugural address said:

"In common with several elected state officials, representing two political parties, I have just taken the oath of office which requires the governor of Ohio to support the constitution of the state and the United States and to enforce faithfully all laws. I have done so without mental reservation. Without the loyal support of the public, however, the governor will be helpless. At the outset, therefore, I must appeal to the good will and the helpful support of the people, as well as of all officials, if I am to fulfill the vow I have just taken.

"Permit me to outline briefly a few specific duties affecting the economic and social welfare of the people, which our constitution and laws impose upon the chief executive. The constitution declares that the supreme executive power of this state shall be vested in the governor. This necessarily embraces the appointment of departmental officials and employees, and I promise to appoint only honest, capable and efficient men and women. I shall not knowingly appoint any who are dishonest or inefficient.

"The constitution furthermore confers upon the governor the right to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons. I pledge that there shall be no abuse of this power. Society can protect itself only by strict enforcement of penal laws. One of the greatest dangers confronting our country today, in my opinion, is a tendency to a disregard for old-fashioned discipline in both public and private life.

"The constitution provides also that the governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. I hope I may never be required to exercise this prerogative, but, if necessary to preserve the peace and guard the safety of our people, I shall not hesitate in the performance of this duty.

"The governor is required under the constitution to fill vacancies that may arise on the bench of Ohio and its subdivisions. You may rest assured that I shall appoint judges of ability, honesty and fitness, and not mere politicians. The last hope and security of our people lies in a pure, nonpartisan judiciary.

"The governor by law is given the power to veto acts of the general assembly. If it becomes necessary to exercise this power, delegated by the people, I shall not hesitate and shall file with the veto a message giving my reasons therefor.

"I shall in no way attempt to encroach upon the prerogatives of the general assembly, but will seek in every manner possible to be helpful to the end that the people's government shall be economically and constructively administered.

"The constitution provides that the governor send a message to the general assembly, showing the condition of the state and bring to the attention of the lawmakers such subjects as the governor may deem expedient. I shall do that tomorrow. It will be a message not merely to the legislature, but also to the people of Ohio. I hope you may read it and advise your public servants if the policies enunciated do not meet with your approval. A second message to the general assembly at an early date will be of vital importance to all the people and I ask that you give it your earnest consideration.

"At all times I shall attempt to be a true spokesman of the people and I have no desire except to carry out their will. You have elected me governor for a two-year term. With the help of the Divine Providence, I pledge myself to be governor of all the people, 'sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish.'"

Efficient Housekeeping

Answered Letters.

Bride: "Is there any difference between peel and pare?"

Answer: Yes. To peel means to remove a skin by the fingers; to pare means to cut with a knife. We peel an orange but pare a potato.

Mrs. N.: "Will you kindly publish directions for removing grease from wall paper. In opening the cap of a milk bottle the top cream splashed up on the wall. I tried to remove it with blotting paper and a hot iron, but with no success."

Answer: Apply gasoline, benzine, chloroform or naphtha. But remember that these fluids are extremely inflammable and cannot be used near heat and flame.

Mrs. L. W.: "Please publish a recipe for Preserving Citron."

Answer: Preserved Citron: Pare and cut into halves three or four citrons, remove seeds and cut the fruit into slices. Weigh these slices and place them in boiling water over boiling water over a good fire. To 10 lbs. of the citron allow 2 quarts of water and one pint of weak vinegar. Boil ten minutes, remove, and cool the citron pieces in cold water, then drain well. Now put an agate-ware kettle on the range and put in to it one-half cup of water and three-quarters of a pound of sugar for each pound of citron that you are preserving (do not add the citron to the sugar and water at this stage, however.) Also put into the kettle green ginger root in the proportion of four ounces ten pounds of the citron, and bring this spiced sirup to a boil. Let it boil five minutes, then add the drained citron to it and let simmer for 45 minutes. Then remove the citron from the sirup with a skimmer and put it in hot, sterilized glass jars. Boil the sirup till thick (it may take a full hour) and pour it over the citron in the jars. Completely seal, at once, label and store. It is important to have the jars hot when the boiling sirup is poured into them, otherwise they may crack. To keep them hot, wrap them in cloths dipped into, and wring from boiling hot water. A. "As a home wedding, when the bride is wearing a veil, is it necessary for the bridegroom and best man to be in full dress?"

Answer: It is not correct to wear full dress (that is, a dress suit) during the daytime; before 6 o'clock "Prince Albert" or frock coat is worn.

You did not say whether your wedding is to be held in the afternoon or in the evening. If, however, the bridegroom and best man wish to wear an ordinary business suit, then it is not correct for the bride to wear a veil—whether the wedding is held in the daytime or at night.

Mrs. M.: "Is there any way to remove the shine from clothing?"

Answer: Yes, ruff up the surface of the cloth gently with a fine-grained sandpaper. This must of course be done frequently to keep the shine from reappearing.

Tomorrow—"Just Tow" To Bake An Apple.

CRABBE APPOINTS BOTH

Columbus, Jan. 8.—Attorney General-elect Crabbe settled a hot contest which has been on for the position of resident counsel at Cincinnati between Charles W. Baker, Jr., Republican organization candidate, and George F. Oaler, backed by the Hamilton county dry organizations, by announcing he would appoint them both, making two representatives of the attorney general's department in Cincinnati in place of one as in the past.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

A Harrowing Situation.

CHAPTER 72

Mrs. Page was very difficult for some time after Fido's death. She missed the dog, was restless, impatient, often cross, and it was always to me, Walter simply "ducked," as he expressed it, when his mother was out of sorts and left me to bear her ill-nature as best I could.

A year before I could scarcely have endured it, but I had learned to care for my husband's mother—not as I loved my own mother, but in a different way.

I also had learned to appreciate her many good points. So when she was particularly exasperating I tried to apply what I told Jennie to myself: I would be old sometime, and should want people to be nice to me, so I would do my best to be nice to her because she was old, and because she was Walter's mother.

Grace Harter gave a party, one of her picnic affairs. Mrs. Page had gone away for a few days, to my relief, to visit a friend in Boston. To please both George and Walter, I consented to leave Jack with Jennie and go—at first I had refused because of Mrs. Page being away.

"He's getting to be a big boy, he'll be all right," Walter urged, "and you know Jennie adores him."

"I know—but feel so safe when your mother's here."

"Do let the Mater stay away a while! Gosh! She's been awful since Fido died!"

"Aren't you ashamed to talk so of your mother?" I asked repressing a smile. I knew Walter loved his mother, was very proud of her, but sometimes one hearing him talk would not suspect he cared for her.

"Well, never mind! We'll go, George."

Tell Grace to make some of her delicious gingerbread."

We planned what we would take after George left, and in such homely talk I forgot to think of worrying about leaving Jack. There really was no reason why I should worry. He was well, Jennie trustworthy.

No thought of warning Jennie about anything, save my boy's food, and being careful he didn't get hurt by falling entered my mind. We would be home early, I would put him to bed. It was Saturday, and a noon day at fair.

Walter laughed at me a little for my cautions as it was. Said he:

"If you had a dozen you wouldn't be so fussy. But a mother with one chick is a nuisance at times."

I had kept them waiting perhaps a minute.

We had a delightful time and reached home a little after five.

"Where's Jack?" I asked.

"A lady came, the young lady in Mr. Page's studio, and took him for a ride. She said she'd be back in an hour."

"What time did she take him?" I asked as quietly as I could. I felt myself turn white but Grace's hand on my arm steadied me.

"About three. Ma'am, right after I fed him."

"Walter," I asked, "did you tell Helen Ralstrom I was going? Did she know your mother was away?"

"Why, yes. I believe I mentioned both to her, why?"

"Don't you see?" I cried, "she knew Jackie would be with the servants! Oh, where has she taken my baby?"

"Keep hold of yourself," Grace cautioned. I saw her glance at Walter.

"Walter, where has she taken him? Why don't you say something? Do something? Who knows what has happened?" I was now trembling so I could scarcely stand. "Oh, why did I leave him?"

"There's no need to worry, Doreen," Walter said, but his voice sounded strange, forced. "Helen likes the little chap, will soon bring him back. I shouldn't know where to look if I went after them."

"Was it a taxi they went in?" Grace asked Jennie, who was weeping, declaring the lady said we would be glad to have him go for an airing when she objected.

"Yes Ma'am. A yellow one."

I moaned running to the door and looking up and down the street.

"I'll telephone her aunt," Walter said, not looking at me.

"Do," Grace said. "She's probably stopped at home to show him to her aunt. It would be quite a natural thing to do," she added, taking my arm and leading me back into the hall.

"She's been there and gone," Walter said when he joined us. She'll probably be here in a few minutes. Try and calm yourself, Doreen. I'm sure Jack is all right."

"Did you ask when she left?" I asked.

"Yes, she left about 4 o'clock." "Something has happened to my baby!" I almost screamed rushing out into the street.

This Is the Golden Age

OUR time is the greatest the world has ever seen. We have more to be happy with. We have better things, greater variety, keener comforts for our choosing, more conveniences to help us in our work, more things that elevate and entertain.

This is the day of better homes, better clothing, better babies, better health, better business. Compare any phase of our life with that of years ago and you will find that it is better.

And advertising is the instrument that makes most of these better things possible.

Advertising is the news of all the looms, all the furnaces, all the laboratories, all the shops, all the stores that are working, planning and building for you.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once would have been worth a king's ransom, are yours at little cost. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, manufacturer against manufacturer, for your benefit. This competition brings out the best there is in everything for your personal benefit.

You wouldn't know about many boons of modern life except through advertising. That is why you are not taking full advantage of the better things today if you consistently overlook the advertisements.

Read advertising and keep abreast
of the times

France Moving Troops to Rhine

FINAL HEARING GIVEN GERMANY BY COMMISSION

Reparations Body Deciding
On Alleged Default of
Deliveries

ESSEN TO BE SEIZED

American and English
Forces to Be Withdrawn
As French Advance

Washington, Jan. 8.—A strong hint that American good offices may yet be utilized to prevent, or at least delay, France's threatened military occupation of the Ruhr and the ugly situation that would arise therefrom was thrown out today from official sources.

The Hughes suggestion to have the whole reparations situation surveyed by an international commission of experts cannot yet be considered as "dead", it was declared at the state department.

Paris, Jan. 8.—France moved troop reinforcements towards the Rhine today while the inter-allied reparations commission was meeting to give Germany a final hearing on the charge that she is in default of her coal and coke deliveries, pledged under the treaty of Versailles.

It was reported that the French army may be moved towards the Ruhr by easy stages, instead of by a single concerted stroke. If this program is followed Essen, the great industrial city on the western edge of the Ruhr basin and the seat of the Krupp works, may be seized first before the Ruhr is taken over.

Belief is growing here that the American and British armies of occupation at Coblenz and Cologne will be withdrawn when the French move forward. In this event the French and Belgian forces will carry out the movement together, employing about 75,000 men.

Paris, Jan. 8.—The French forces have been made ready to march when Premier Poincare gives the word for the carrying out of his still secret plan for seizing the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

Trains were crowded with officers and men, hurriedly recalled from leave, returning to their posts, and M. Poincare conferred with M. Le Troquer, minister of public works, on final arrangements for the transportation of the civil and military forces.

The French troops on the Rhine have been ordered by General Degoutte to remain in their quarters wherever there appears to be any danger of clashes with the Germans, and every precaution will be taken to avoid demonstrations.

There are several times the number of French forces in the Rhineland as are likely to be required for the Ruhr operations, but all the troops will be held in readiness for instant service, although there is nothing yet to justify the assumption of immediate action.

M. Poincare has repeatedly described the proposed entrance into the Ruhr as chiefly the work of engineers and customs collectors. This is the nucleus, but the military support required necessarily depends upon the French estimate of what resistance the Germans may offer. It is known also that the premier's original idea was modified to make it attractive to the British, but now that France is going in alone, she is under no such restraint.

The government considers it desirable to have the reparations commission declare Germany in voluntary default on coal before acting, but this is expected late today, after the Germans appear before the commission, or tomorrow. The French cabinet will meet again Tuesday and the premier will outline the declaration he will make.

Various considerations may cause Premier Poincare to delay the Ruhr operations until Germany's failure to pay the 500,000,000 gold marks on Jan. 15 further strengthens his hand, but importance is attached to the commission's action on the coal question, which is taken to mean that he would consider recognition of a default is that respect as adequate.

FOUR MEMBERS OF MURDER MOB ARE IDENTIFIED

Arrests Impending in
Louisiana as Government
Probe Continues

OFFER IMMUNITY

Complete Confession Will Win Freedom for Con-
spirator.

Bastrop, La., Jan. 8.—Four actual members of the "hooded mob," which brutally murdered Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards, of Mer Rouge, after barbaric torture, have been identified by Department of Justice investigators. It was learned authoritatively today.

The four men are under constant surveillance by government agents and their arrests are imminent.

A mass of evidence has been gathered against the quartette, involving them in the fiendish crime, and federal agents now are closing the loopholes through which they might escape justice on technicalities. Whenever this work is completed the blow will fall.

The arrest of this quartette will be the signal for a number of additional arrests of alleged accomplices. The latter will be charged with being accessories to the murders through actions, either prior to the crime or as guilty in hiding the murders.

An offer of complete immunity, it was learned, will be offered to the first mob member who confesses his part.

THREE ARE DEAD AND 2 INJURED IN AUTO SMASH

Automobile Falls Through
Viaduct In Cleveland
Sunday Night

Cleveland, Jan. 8.—Three persons are dead today and two others are in a hospital seriously injured, following an auto accident on the Harvard Avenue viaduct at East 26th street last night. The automobile plunged through the railing and landed on the rails of the Newburg and South Shore railroad forty feet below. The dead are Mrs. Christiana Blaha, 35; Mrs. Ruth Urdil, 22, and John Urdil, 45. The injured James Blaha, 38, driver of the car and his daughter, Florence, 5. The little girl shielded by the arms of her dead mother, thus escaped instant death.

Mr. Carman had been suffering from heart trouble and members of the family had kept papers concerning the affair from him. Sunday morning, however, he secured a copy of the Coshocton Tribune, containing an account of his son's misfortune. It proved to much for his weakened health.

New York, Jan. 8.—Frank Barrett Carman, actor-dancer, held in connection with the $500,000 jewel robbery from Mrs. C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf, wife of a Buffalo capitalist, was discharged by Magistrate McQuade today.

EX-NEWSBOYS HEAD HUGE COMBINE

Oris and Mantis van Sweringen

The consolidation of five large railroad systems into one of the largest systems of the Mississippi River has brought into the public eye the two brothers heading the combine—Oris P. and Mantis J. Van Sweringen of Columbus, Ohio, two practically un-heard-of financiers. They obtained a common school education in Geneva, Ohio, where later they sold newspapers for a living. Going to Cleveland, 20 years ago, they entered the real estate business in a small way, and it was not until they interested capitalists in the purchase of a large tract of land near Cleveland that they began to attract attention. Now their interests operate and control the New York, Chicago and St. Louis, the Toledo, St. Louis and Southwestern, the Lake Erie and Western, the Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville and the Chicago and State Line railroads, all of which they have consolidated into one system.

Mrs. Szabo was beaten to death by a hammer. Her skull was crushed and all ribs on the left side were broken.

Szabo was arrested on the charges of Gertrude Miller Sunday morning following the murder of his wife but

ITALY SEEKS TO CHECK THE FRENCH

London, Jan. 8.—Italy is trying to persuade France not to move her Rhineland army towards the Ruhr on Wednesday after Germany has been officially declared in default of 1922 coal and coke deliveries, it was learned in authoritative quarters this afternoon.

The Italians consider that the coal default is not sufficiently serious to justify such a drastic penalty as military occupation of the great Ruhr coal fields.

It is understood the Italians are urging the French to hold off military action until January 15 when Germany is expected to default upon the gold payment of reparations due on that date.

Inaugural

OTHERS SWORN IN

Oath of Office Administered
Simultaneously By
Chief Justice

Columbus, Jan. 8.—A. V. Donahey, Democrat, of New Philadelphia, and former state auditor, today became Ohio's fiftieth governor.

Inaugural ceremonies took place at noon on the west steps of the state capitol, and this was followed immediately by a public reception in the state house rotunda.

The exercises began at 11:30 on a covered platform, the 166th infantry band opening with a concert. Rev. O. L. Lindenbalt of Shepard M. E. church, which Mr. Donahey and his family attended during his residence at Shepard, while he was state auditor, delivered the invocation.

At 11:55 a. m., the retiring governor, Davis, presented Mr. Donahey with his commission, and Chief Justice C. T. Marshall administered the oath of office to the new governor and to other newly-elected state officials. The governor's salute of 17 guns boomed forth at noon, just as the new governor was being sworn in.

The new governor followed with his inaugural address, in which he pledged himself to be "governor of all the people, survive or perish."

The inaugural ceremonies proper closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and benediction.

During the public reception Governor Donahey and his aids occupied a platform that had been erected in the center of the state house rotunda. It was surrounded by cedars, palms, ferns and flowers.

The house and senate convened at 10 o'clock today. Lieutenant Governor Earl D. Bloom, Democrat, of Bowling Green, was sworn in as presiding officer of the senate, succeeding Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester.

TOP OF MOUNTAIN IS BLOWN OFF

Anchorage, Alaska, Jan. 8.—The top of Pavlov mountain, Aleutian peninsula, has been blown off by a volcanic eruption, according to wireless messages received here, which said the volcano had become active, lighting the sky for many miles with the glow from the crater, reflected from the snow-capped peaks. The severe earthquake shock felt here recently is believed to have resulted from the activity of this volcano. Navigators familiar with volcanic activity in the Aleutian section expressed the belief that phenomenon might result similar to that of 1896, when Dogoslof island disappeared and rose alternately from the sea. Pavlov mountain is situated on one of the narrowest portions of the peninsula.

SIXTY INJURED AS TRAIN HITS STALLED TRUCK

Lake Shore Electric Cars
Smash Head-on Into
Automobile

Fremont, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Three persons are in a critical condition here this morning, and may die, while ten others are seriously injured and about fifty less seriously as a result of a collision last night five miles east of here. A Lake Shore electric train chashed head on into a motor truck, stalled on the track. The most seriously injured were William Helm, Fremont; Matilda Cizen, Detroit, and Clarence A. Dogart, motorman, of the train, Fremont.

The first car of the train left the track when the collision occurred.

The truck, driven by Henry Field, of Detroit, bearing Michigan license No. 41138, was one of five taking office furniture to the Canton Plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Company. He said that he ran out of gas and was on the running board of the truck putting up a red light when the train bore down on him coming fifty miles an hour. He jumped and was injured by flying timbers.

The truck was thrown fully two hundred feet.

The injured motorman said that he did not see the truck until almost upon it.

TWO CONFESS TO PART IN WILBERFORCE HOLDUP

Pair Held to Grand Jury Following Arrest in Connection With Alleged Crime Near Wilberforce Saturday Evening.

William James, 35, and Ralph Nickens, 20, both colored, of Wilberforce, came before the Grand Jury Monday morning on charges of assault with intent to rob, following their arrests early Sunday morning after an alleged assault on John Watkins, 58, colored, of near Wilberforce. The pair was arrested by Sheriff

Morris Sharp, Deputy John Baughn and Patrolman Anell Stephens of the Xenia Police Department, after the officers had worked on the case several hours following the report. Early Sunday morning the authorities obtained confessions from both men. Watkins was recovering Monday from the effects of a blow on the forehead over the left eye, which required several stitches to close.

Watkins lives with Sandy Pettiford, 75, of near Wilberforce. He was attracted to a knock on the door about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night and when he responded was struck on the head by James, according to authorities. He used a rock tied in a handkerchief. Watkins was not rendered unconscious, and the two men fought all over two rooms, as evidenced by disarranged furniture and blood on the floor. By holding the arm of his assailant, Watkins managed to avoid being struck again, Nickens, in the meantime, is said to have been too frightened to aid his partner and when James dropped the rock from the handkerchief he had fashioned into a bludgeon, both fled.

Watkins was found shortly afterward by his son-in-law of Cedarville, who returned to that village and called Police Headquarters. Police notified Watkins' son, Fred Watkins, South Whiteman Street barber, who, with D. R. Nelson, taxi driver, went to the scene, where they found the rock and James' cap. They brought Watkins to the office of Dr. J. R. Moore, 331 East Market Street, where his injury was dressed. In the meantime police notified Sheriff Sharp, and the officers went to the scene. Police say that James had attempted to sell a revolver Saturday night and had sworn that he would obtain money some way. The two men were arrested at their respective homes and kept apart. Both denied complicity in the case. Nickens confessing last night James was out through a lengthy third degree and faced with Nickens' testimony, before he admitted his guilt, early Sunday morning.

Watkins told authorities that he believed that if he had not maintained his grasp on James' arm until the men fled, that he would have been killed. Authorities believe that in the arrest of James and Nickens they have broken up the series of holdups that have been terrorizing residents of Wilberforce and vicinity for several months. Owing to the fact that the Grand Jury began its deliberations Monday morning, Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson called the case to come before that body at once.

Witnesses will also testify that the klanmen who captured Daniel and Richards several weeks prior to their murder, also wore the same type of hoods. On this first kidnapping the two murdered men were warned not to continue their opposition to the klan.

Although there was no session of the "open hearing" today, Bastrop continued to be crowded with visitors. Many came merely to view the surroundings and in this number were scores of automobile parties from beyond the state's borders. They added greatly to the transient population.

The town remained quiet, but with an ever present under current of suspense. The demobilization of one of the four national guard units in Morehouse parish created little more than a ripple of excitement. Its return to civilian life was not unexpected because of the recent addition of a cavalry troop to the army units here. The infantry sent home had been stationed at Mer Rouge where a strong detachment of cavalry remains.

A visit of state pathologists to Lake La Fourche, where the bodies of Daniel and Richards were found produced no new evidence. The professional men had hoped to find further evidence on the shore of the lake, but were unsuccessful.

SANFORD IS CHOSEN FOR SUPREME COURT VACANCY

Washington, Jan. 8.—President Harding has definitely determined to name United States District Judge Edward Terry Sanford, Tennessee, to the vacancy on the Supreme Court, it was learned authoritatively Sunday. The nomination is expected to go to the Senate early this week.

The President, it is said, changed to the point of view of Chief Justice William H. Taft that a Southern Republican should go on the Supreme Court bench to succeed Justice Pitney, after he had been unable to settle on an Eastern man for the place, and after Interior Secretary Albert B. Fall had declined the position.

SHOWS NECESSITY OF PRAYER DURING SERMON AT CHURCH

There was a large attendance at all the Sunday services at the First M. E. Church, where Evangelistic meetings are now being held.

The big chorus choir rendered excellent music at both morning and evening services. In the evening the children's chorus with several little soloists delighted the audience. Mr. Seebert and Miss Keeler sang a duet. The morning sermon by the pastor, Dr. G. A. Scott, was on the subject of prayer. He said: "Prayer is universal. It is a necessity just as air and water are necessities. Even the animals lift up a cry for help in times of peril. But prayer was not meant for times of peril only.

"Should one pray from a sense of duty? Yes. We read and study of ten when we do not feel like it and find that the intellect is quickened. "Keep up the habit of prayer. God is always at hand. Pray about your plans and proposals and you will realize God's steady power and guidance. He puts a steady hand on the man who prays.

"It is good to come from the chill of the world into the warmth of the love of God. Prayer throws light upon the word God and you will find that although some passages may be above your comprehension they are not contrary to your reason.

Prayer is a great character-builder. Take time to pray. Your spiritual life cannot be maintained without it. God pity the children who never hear their parents pray!"

The speaker then related some remarkable answers to prayer and appealed to the church for more prayers for families and the community.

The Tuesday afternoon prayer meetings will be held in the following houses: Mrs. F. C. Shaw, Chestnut St.; Mrs. Josephine Oglesbee, West 3rd St.; Mrs. William Compton, W. Main St.; Mrs. Mary Fudge, N. Gallo-way St.; Mrs. John Gardner, Springfield Pike; Mrs. William Mider, Whiteman St.; Miss Jennie Thomas, E. 3rd St.; and Mrs. Frank Hurley, Hill Street.

BURGLAR ENTERS HOME; GETS HAUL

A burglar, who is believed to have used a pass key to effect an entrance to the home of John Slagle, 321 West Church Street, escaped with $70 in cash and some clothing belonging to John Hisinger, a roomer at that address, Saturday night.

The burglar is said to have taken a box in which the clothing was contained, and the money was also concealed in that box. Patrolman Fred Jones found the box still containing the clothing in the rear of the D. and X. traction freight station on West Main street, Sunday morning.

The robbery occurred while both Slagle and Hisinger were down town early Saturday evening.

BOY SCOUTS TO MEET.

MINISTERIAL BODY ENDORSES STAND ON ARBUCKLE FILMS

The attitude of Superintendent of County Schools, H. C. Aultman, and of State Superintendent of Instruction, Vernon Reigel, in barring the "Fatty" Arbuckle films, was endorsed by the members of the Xenia Ministerial Association, at the meeting held at the First Presbyterian Church Monday morning.

It was decided by the pastors at the meeting that all churches of the city accept the invitation of the First United Presbyterian Church, to attend the services on January 28, to be held in honor of the Rev. D. D. Dodds, retiring pastor of that church. "Since the Rev. Mr. Dodds is held in high honor by the association, it was decided that we show evidence of our appreciation of him by having part in this service," said a local pastory Monday.

President Gregg, of Wilberforce University, and Professor Johnson, of the Religious Committee of the University, were introduced to the body, and spoke in appreciation of the services rendered by the local ministers in conducting services at the University. In return for the favor they offered to give two entertainments at two of the local churches, the program to consist of "Spirituals," Negro folk melodies, by a Wilberforce student chorus. The dates, January 23, at Trinity M. E. Church, and January 30 at the Second United Presbyterian Church, as suggested by the school officials, for the entertainments were accepted by the Association, the public being invited to attend the entertainments.

The Rev. Dodds gave a paper before the body, on the subject, "By-Products of the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home. But it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CUNO'S NON-WAR PACT.

France has rejected the German non-war pact that solemn pledge by all Powers interested in the Rhine that for thirty years none of them should wage war on another unless the people of the nations involved should so authorize in a popular referendum. "To my regret," says the German Chancellor, "France has seen fit to reject our proposal."

His regret, of course is understandable, but neither Chancellor Cuno nor any other German should be surprised by the French refusal. Belgium it will be recalled, had German guarantees against invasion, but they became a "scrap of paper." In the last decade France and the world have had some revealing experiences with Germany.

Credit, faith, mutual trust and understanding are based on character among nations as among men. As a nation Germany has become a moral bankrupt. The German word is not good; any German proposal is regarded as tainted. This is all very sad and maybe unjust, but it is so and Germany has herself to blame.

For four years she has dodged, whined and evaded and looked for loopholes. Her disarmament had to be forced. Four years ago the Peace Conference was about to meet. In January, 1920, the treaty went into effect. It was January, 1921, before the Allies could force the fixing of reparations at 226,000,000,000 gold marks, payable in forty-two years. The Germans did not pay, so in April, 1921, the sum was cut to 132,000,000,000 gold marks. Still protesting and walling, always threatening to "go Red," Germany was given a partial moratorium at Cannes in January, 1922, and again has failed.

Where a pledge could be broken it has been broken; where evasion has been possible Germany has evaded. Small wonder that France, watching the Teuton sign, repudiate and evade with the final purpose of paying nothing, has refused to bother with Cuno's pact and have her hands tied for forty-five to sixty years. She prefers the security she can make for herself to what she regards as another more than doubtful German pledge.

FOR AN IRISH PEACE.

The terms of peace laid down to "republicans" and "irregulars" by William Cosgrave, head of the Irish Free State, are neither more nor less stern than any self-respecting Government would offer. The disciples of DeValera may have peace any time they want it, through and by submission to the law.

The Anglo-Irish Treaty must be accepted. It is the charter and the birth certificate of the Free State. Arms must be put away. There must be no interference with elections. All pretense at exercising the powers of government in opposition to the Free State must end.

These conditions are fundamental. The Free State wants no patched-up peace and does well to reject it. There is to be no compromise with murder, and so far as the Dublin government is concerned, there is nothing to arbitrate.

These terms may not end the campaign of ambush, riot and destruction at once, but when they do end these disorders, it will be a permanent ending. The world outside Ireland will approve them.

ARMOUR QUILTS AS PACKING COMPANY HEAD.

On Tuesday, F. Edson White became the president of Armour & Co., one of the biggest packing concerns in the world.

J. Ogden Armour, who has directed the destinies of the business since his father, Philip D. Armour, Sr., died in 1921, retires from the presidency and becomes chairman of the board. Philip D. Armour, 3d, was designated first vice president.

Mr. White will have under his direction not only Armour & Co. of Illinois, with its more than a billion dollars of business each year, but also Armour & Co. of Delaware, the newly organized subsidiary.

If the proposed purchase of Morris & Co. is consummated, Mr. White will be the head of the greatest packing industry ever created.

The new president's history is like that of dozens of other men who have started in the slime and dirt of the lowest round of "Packingtown" and climbed to the ownership of vast fortunes and the control and management of almost untold millions.

The passing of J. Ogden Armour from the active control of the company ends for him a period of more than thirty-five years devoted to development of the industry.

Besides remaining as chairman of the board Mr. Armour will devote his time to his other business enterprises.

GRAPEFRUIT AT MORN MAKES DOCTORS FORLORN.

They say if you eat an apple a day you keep the doctor away. But what about the grapefruit?

As a fact it is the rhyme, the aptness of the thought, that has helped make the apple famous, with all due respect to the advertising power of Mother Eve. "A grapefruit each day keeps the doctor away," had it been sent trippingly from the tongue of America, would have spelled health and happiness throughout the nation, and incidentally have developed a great industry of countless value, to our railroads, to our shipping, to our farmers—in fact, to all the people in every section of the country.

Of course, there is no rivalry between the apple and the grapefruit. Both are health giving and delicious. One should be eaten in the morning and the other at night.

Clemenceau, the Tiger of France, announces that grapefruit is the most vitalizing and health giving of all foods, and such an endorsement, coming from one who has demonstrated his belief in the practical application of beneficial food theories by eating onion soup for breakfast is worthy of consideration.

Millions of Americans would be healthier and happier if they ate grapefruit every day. Medical men say it is the most beneficial of all fruits.

Sixty-five newspaper offices throughout the United States now operate radio broadcasting stations.

Statistics show that Cincinnati receives 97 per cent. of its daily milk supply by means of auto trucks.

The gas industry used 10,000,000 tons of coal and approximately 900,000,000 gallons of oil during the year 1921.

Severe coast storms and lack of freighting facilities are greatly handicapping the shipping business in and around Boston.

During the year 1921 more than 313,000,000 feet of lumber was used in the manufacture of automobiles and trucks in the United States.

TURNING IT OVER TO SOMEONE NOT SO HEAVILY ENCUMBERED ALREADY

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

A letter was received by Xenia City school officials from Lewis D. Bonebrake, State Superintendent of Schools, yesterday, which contained the statement that Mr. Bonebrake has just assigned the Xenia High School the first grade and that he thought the school curriculum was the most satisfactory in the state.

The big clock in the Court House tower, which marks the time for the city is a time piece of splendid quality. Since it was put in position it has varied but a few seconds each month and it is accurate to an unusual degree.

requiring but little attention and regulation.

A deal has been consummated by which the Baldner Automobile Company has come into possession of the old Hopkins property at the corner of Church and Whiteman Streets, formerly occupied as a carriage factory by the Xenia Buggy Company. We understand the consideration to be $2,450.

Mr. W. E. Cox, the C. H. and D. ticket agent together with his family has made arrangements to spend the winter at St. Augustine, Florida.

Make Your Own Creams.

I should like to advise every woman to make her own cold creams. In these days the question of expense appeals to all of us, and home made creams are cheaper, as well as better. Besides, we all need a certain amount of cold cream, not that it could ever take the place of the old fashioned soap and water, but simply because modern cities are so full of dust and grime that oil as well as water is needed to cleanse the skin.

There are two kinds of cream—European and American. The European kinds are usually vanishing creams. Personally, I do not like them as well.

I prefer a rather heavy cream with a great deal of oil for nourishing the skin and very little soda, if any at all; and for cleaning, a light, oily cream that is easily wiped off the face or washed out.

Here's the formula for the nourishing cream, for wrinkles, dry skin, chaps, sunburn, general neglect of the complexion.

Rose Water ..... 4 ounces
Almond Oil ..... 4 ounces
Spermaceti ..... 1 ounce
White Wax ..... 1 ounce
Benzoin ..... 1 drachm
Borax ..... 30 grains
You probably know how to make this. Melt the waxes until they blend with the oil. Get the rest of the ingredients lukewarm, take from the heat pour the water slowly into the oils, stir and beat until ready to congeal then pour off into jars to cool and harden. An ideal cream, this, and very costly if you purchased such a quality ready made. You can, if wish, use olive oil instead of almond, it's cheaper and quite as good if you do not dislike its faint odor. Perfume with the rose water would disguise that, of course.

This cream is also cleansing, though a cheaper kind can be obtained for this purpose.

Bertha T.—Circles around the eyes usually come from internal disturbances, so no lotion applied to the skin would eliminate them. Consult your doctor about the trouble, unless sluggishness which you could correct it is only due to a slight digestive yourself through diet. Agar agar is tasteless and is easily taken by sprinkling it over the breakfast cereal.

Robert W. Cod Liver oil is heating in addition to being nourishing, which is the reason why so many people take it who suffer from colds as you do. Olive oil will nourish and is less taxing to the digestion than the other oil, but it does not produce the warmth.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.

THE POET.

I read an ode by Seacock-Sage—it is the proper thing to read him; his works just now are all the rage, and wild applause the highbrows feed him. I read that epic to and fro, from right to left and down the middle, I greatly strove its sense to know, and still it was a beastly riddle. "The way this poet fumes and rants, imputing souls to tiger-lilies," I said in anger, to my aunts, "must give all thoughtful men the willies. One line in ten is fine and grand, and might be written by a master; if t'other nine you'd understand, you'd have to wear a porous plaster. Life is too short to read a bard who balls you up with far-fetched phrases; I'll throw this volume in the yard, and Seacock-Sage may go to blazes." When I am talking to my aunts I tell the truth, as I describe it; but when I go to Cultures haunts I know the truth and yet deny it. That evening at the Highbrow Club I boosted works of Seacock-Sage's, and said he was a gifted dub whose fame would thunder down the ages. I feared they'd think my brow was low if once I started to jaw him, they'd say I lacked the sense to know a first class poet when I saw him. I wouldn't give ten cents a ton for all the odes this bard is showing, but we are rabbits, every one, and follow where the crowd is going.

Today's Talk

The Task of Happiness.

"Two men looked out from prison bars;

One saw mud, the other stars."

Just so far as is possible we should all become artists in happiness. It is a task as exacting and as difficult as the art of painting or of music—with the same requisite, that we must be born with talent for it.

Happiness blooms in fertile soil. It may be soil in which the flowers of sadness and the thistles of disappointment and despair have often grown tall. But where this thing of happiness is made to grow, its pungent odors and exquisite beauties cast their spell over all.

So that happiness does indeed become a task—but one which floods the soul with health and spurs every faculty of the mind and body to the best achievement.

Beyond, and far above the mud of failure, are always to be found the stars of happiness!

What a wealth of beauty is hourly passed by in this workaday world. There are those who daily wade through the richness of happiness, not knowing and complaining that life is not worth the living.

All you have to do is to reach out

a little, bear a little, feel a little, love a little—and behold a tiny plant of happiness is born to the light of heaven right where you are.

Then your task begins. Will you be very happy or remain merely passively content?

Caged in that restless frame of yours just remember that when you look for the stars, you must look up! Happiness is looking up.

COLUMBUS SCHOOL WINS EASILY OVER CENTRAL QUINTETTE

Xenia Central High basketball team was not even good enough to get a field goal against the crack East High five of Columbus at the new high school gym Saturday night, the visitors winning handily 18 to 2.

Two fouls tossed by LeSourd out of a flock of chances, kept the blue and white tossers from being completely shutout. The Columbus clan did not guard so carefully as to not permit the locals a shot but of the many openings the blue and white basketekers had, they were not able to locate the net with even one of them.

The game was interesting during the first half even though the visitors were well in the lead. The foulshooting of Keifer, who made six out of seven attempts good from the free-throw line in this half, and also his field goal, kept the visitors out in front, but they scored all their points in the first quarter. In the second quarter, LeSourd tossed the two foul goals that represented Xena's scoring efforts while the Columbus crowd did not score. The third and fourth quarters saw the visitors really assume an imposing lead. They captured four of their five field goals in this half, while the locals were shooting desperately from all angles with no success.

Old Man Experience will have to take care of Coach Earl Burkner's outfit before many games will be chalked up in the win column. Lads who are usually good shots at the hoop seem to be the victims of stage fright in the games, a natural result of a green team, such as is representing the school this year, which would be overcome by the experience to be acquired as the season progresses. The lineup and summary:

Xenia—2 Columbus—18
Woolary ..... L. F. .... Dolby
LeSourd ..... R. F. .... Keifer
Schwab ..... C. .... Joseph
Currie ..... L. G. .... Evans
Ballentyne ..... R. G. .... Slemmons
Substitutions: Xenia—Zell for Ballentyne, Muterspaw for Woolary; Perrine for Muterspaw, Smith for Currie, Ballentyne for Schwab; Columbus—Whitacre for Joseph, Joseph for Dolby, Field goals: Keifer 2, Joseph 2, Whitacre 1. ## FIRM MAKES MONEY BY "LOST" LAWSUIT

Berlin, Jan. 8.—How to clear a net profit of a million and a half marks by the loss of a lawsuit was lately demonstrated by a Cologne business man.

Two years ago, the firm's agent in a neighboring branch office ordered 24,000 maraks' worth of goods without being authorized by the main office, which refused to recognize the purchase.

Law proceedings were started by the purchaser, the goods being stored pending judgment.

When, after two years, judgment was recently given in favor of the purchaser, the Cologne firm was only too glad to be "sentenced" to take over the disputed goods.

Owing to the sweeping depreciation of the mark, the goods had in the meantime assumed an accumulated value of nearly two million marks, which, deducting all costs, left the buyer with a net profit of one and one-half millions.

BOTH CEDARVILLE COLLEGE GAGE 5'S ARE VICTORIOUS

Cedarville College, defeated here by the Boring-Yanks, a few weeks ago, reversed the tables on the Xenia aggregation at Cedarville, Friday night, winning 22 to 20.

CHINESE COOLIE INVADES ISLE OF TAHITI IS WORD

Los Angeles, Jan. 8.—Wonder Isle of French Polynesia!

That is the island of Tahiti, which, according to Herbert Moesbury writer and artist, is destined to become a Chinese coolie settlement.

Moesbury has just returned to Los Angeles to take up his residence after a year in nothing but a lion skin on a small plantation in the interior of Tahiti.

The Tahitian, being too lazy to compete effectively with the coolie in the copra business, according to Moesbury, has elected to doze beneath his banyan tree (while the Chinaman works and lives) and in this blissful state is dying gradually as a race.

Moesbury declares that the French Colonial Office is indifferent about the Tahitian and would just as soon see him superseded by the Chinese.

Spanish influenza took in its "death sweep" about 6,000 natives when it raged in the South Seas, according to Moesbury, who pointed out that the Tahitians generally are a superb race physically. During the same period but two Chinese are said to have died of the same disease.

The Tahitians rank among the best "movie" critics in the world, Moesbury says. For the pittance of three francs they can see pictures which were forgotten by the American makers 10 years ago. But the Tahitian is "wise" and calls them "old man" pictures.

The "blood and thunder" movie stuff is said to have made a great hit with the natives on the island of Tahiti, and comedy pictures almost set them crazy with joy, Moesbury says.

Until the tricolor came to the island the only city of importance on the island is said to have been Tahiti, and the natives openly worshipped one god, Oro, a mystic deity, whose face they did not know, but in whose honor they erected images.

FORT SAM HOUSTON BIGGEST ARMY POST

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 8.—Historic Fort Sam Houston, Cynosure of the military world since its recent consolidation with Camp Travis here, is the largest military post in the United States. Major-General E. M. Lewis, commander of the Eighth Corps Area, of which this post is headquarters is authority for this information.

It has been disclosed that virtually every man connected prominently with the achievements of the United States Army during the last 65 years, has served at this post at some time or other during his career.

In the historic old clock tower, situated in the center of the quadrangle, can be found written and carved on the winding stairs that lead to the balcony, such names as Robert E. Lee, John J. Pershing, Frederick Dent Grant, Frederick Runston, August Thomas, Phil Sheridan and scores of others.

If one would have luck while in the service it is essential that one's name be scribbled or carved some place in or near the tower, is a traditional superstition with army men here.

Many of the names of army officers now enshrined in the hearts of Americans as a result of brave deeds performed on the battlefield were made legible when their owners were "shavetails," or second lieutenants, just from school.

Styles BY LENORE

You may not suspect it, but the costume pictured today is capable of deceiving you. In an altogether praise-worthy way, however, it has but to unbutton the circular tunic from around the waist and remove it to the shoulders, attaching it to the two buttons at the neck, and voila! you have a frock which may be adjusted to the day's weather models.

This is a French idea for a sports dress, and it is a good idea for traveling.

Dark blue Canton crepe is used for the bodice and tunic cloth in the same color makes the skirt and tunic, and trims the bodice.

GRAND JURY STARTS PROBE OF MURDER

Henry Burns, the husband, arrested on the day of the discovery of the crime is held in county jail here, charged with murder, but protests his innocence. He is a well-to-do Cleveland business man.

COLONEL LAWRENCE ENLISTS AS BRITISH PRIVATE

Col. T. E. Lawrence, C.B., D.S.O.

Colonel T. E. Lawrence, C.B., D.S.O., whose brilliant and super-heroic achievements in uniting the Arab tribes against Turkey during the World War won him renown—praise from the Allies and 7,000 pounds sterling reward for his head from the Turks—has been heard from again. This romantic figure—student, archaeologist, linguist, diplomat, and soldier—has been serving for the past four months as a humble British Tommy, both to get freedom for writing and to get new material. His original manuscript was stolen from him three years ago on a train. His identity, for he used an assumed name, was discovered during a kit inspection, when an officer noticed that he had books in English, French, Italian, German and Arabic in his possession.

Governor Donahey in his inaugural address said:

"In common with several elected state officials, representing two political parties, I have just taken the oath of office which requires the governor of Ohio to support the constitution of the state and the United States and to enforce faithfully all laws. I have done so without mental reservation. Without the loyal support of the public, however, the governor will be helpless. At the outset, therefore, I must appeal to the good will and the helpful support of the people, as well as of all officials, if I am to fulfill the vow I have just taken.

"Permit me to outline briefly a few specific duties affecting the economic and social welfare of the people, which our constitution and laws impose upon the chief executive. The constitution declares that the supreme executive power of this state shall be vested in the governor. This necessarily embraces the appointment of departmental officials and employees, and I promise to appoint only honest, capable and efficient men and women. I shall not knowingly appoint any who are dishonest or inefficient.

"The constitution furthermore confers upon the governor the right to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons. I pledge that there shall be no abuse of this power. Society can protect itself only by strict enforcement of penal laws. One of the greatest dangers confronting our country today, in my opinion, is a tendency to a disregard for old-fashioned discipline in both public and private life.

"The constitution provides also that the governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. I hope I may never be required to exercise this prerogative, but, if necessary to preserve the peace and guard the safety of our people, I shall not hesitate in the performance of this duty.

"The governor is required under the constitution to fill vacancies that may arise on the bench of Ohio and its subdivisions. You may rest assured that I shall appoint judges of ability, honesty and fitness, and not mere politicians. The last hope and security of our people lies in a pure, nonpartisan judiciary.

"The governor by law is given the power to veto acts of the general assembly. If it becomes necessary to exercise this power, delegated by the people, I shall not hesitate and shall file with the veto a message giving my reasons therefor.

"I shall in no way attempt to encroach upon the prerogatives of the general assembly, but will seek in every manner possible to be helpful to the end that the people's government shall be economically and constructively administered.

"The constitution provides that the governor send a message to the general assembly, showing the condition of the state and bringing to the attention of the lawmakers such subjects as the governor may deem expedient. I shall do that tomorrow. It will be a message not merely to the legislature, but also to the people of Ohio. I hope you may read it and advise your public servants if the policies enunciated do not meet with your approval. A second message to the general assembly at an early date will be of vital importance to all the people and I ask that you give it your earnest consideration.

"At all times I shall attempt to be a true spokesman of the people and I have no desire except to carry out their will. You have elected me governor for a two-year term. With the help of the Divine Providence, I pledge myself to be governor of all the people, 'sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish.'"

Answered Letters.

Bride: "Is there any difference between peel and pare?"

Answer: Yes. To peel means to remove a skin by the fingers; to pare means to cut with a knife. We peel an orange but pare a potato.

Mrs. N.: "Will you kindly publish directions for removing grease from wall paper. In opening the cap of a milk bottle the top cream splashed up on the wall. I tried to remove it with blotting paper and a hot iron, but with no success."

Answer: Apply gasoline, benzene, chloroform or naphtha. But remember that these fluids are extremely inflammable and cannot be used near heat and flame.

Mrs. L. W.: "Please publish a recipe for Preserving Citron."

Answer: Preserved Citron: Pare and cut into halves three or four citrons, remove seeds and cut the fruit into slices. Weigh these slices and place them in boiling water over boiling water over a good fire. To 10 lbs. of the citron allow 2 quarts of water and one pint of weak vinegar. Boil ten minutes, remove, and cool the citron pieces in cold water, then drain well.

Now put an agate-ware kettle on the range and put in to it one-half cup of water and three-quarters of a pound of sugar for each pound of citron that you are preserving (do not add the citron to the sugar and water at this stage, however). Also put into the kettle green ginger root in the proportion of four ounces ten pounds of the citron, and bring this spiced sirup to a boil. Let it boil five minutes, then add the drained citron to it and let simmer for 45 minutes. Then remove the citron from the sirup with a skimmer and put it in hot, sterilized glass jars. Boil the sirup till thick (it may take a full hour) and pour it over the citron in the jars. Completely seal, at once, label and store. It is important to have the jars hot when the boiling sirup is poured into them, otherwise they may crack. To keep them hot, wrap them in cloths dipped into, and wring from boiling hot water.

A. "Aa a home wedding, when the bride is wearing a veil, is it necessary for the bridegroom and best man to be in full dress?"

Answer: It is not correct to wear full dress (that is, a dress suit) during the daytime; before 6 o'clock a "Prince Albert" or frock coat is worn. You did not say whether your wedding is to be held in the afternoon or in the evening. If, however, the bridegroom and best man wish to wear an ordinary business suit, then it is not correct for the bride to wear a veil—whether the wedding is held in the daytime or at night.

Mrs. M.: "Is there any way to remove the shine from clothing?"

Answer: Yes, ruff up the surface of the cloth gently with a fine-grained sandpaper. This must of course be done frequently to keep the shine from reappearing.

CRABBE APPOINTS BOTH

Columbus, Jan. 8.—Attorney General-elect Crabbe settled a hot contest which has been on for the position of resident counsel at Cincinnati between Charles W. Baker, Jr., Republican organization candidate, and George F. Osler, backed by the Hamilton county dry organizations, by announcing he would appoint them both, making two representatives of the attorney general's department in Cincinnati in place of one as in the past.

A Harrowing Situation.

CHAPTER 72

Mrs. Page was very difficult for some time after Fido's death. She missed the dog, was restless, impatient, often cross, and it was always to me, Walter simply "ducked," as he expressed it, when his mother was out of sorts and left me to hear her ill-nature as best I could.

A year before I could scarcely have endured it, but I had learned to care for my husband's mother—not as I loved my own mother, but in a different way.

I also had learned to appreciate her many good points. So when she was particularly exasperating I tried to apply what I told Jennie to myself: I would be old sometime, and should want people to be nice to me, so I would do my best to be nice to her because she was old, and because she was Walter's mother.

Grace Harter gave a party, one of her picnic affairs. Mrs. Page had gone away for a few days, to my relief, to visit a friend in Boston. To please both George and Walter, I consented to leave Jack with Jennie and go—at first I had refused because of Mrs. Page being away.

"He's getting to be a big boy, he'll be all right," Walter urged, "and you know Jennie adores him."

"I know—but I feel so safe when your mother's here."

"Do let the Mater stay away a while! Gosh! She's been awful since Fido died!"

"Aren't you ashamed to talk so of your mother?" I asked repressing a smile. I knew Walter loved his mother, was very proud of her, but sometimes one hearing him talk would not suspect he cared for her.

"Well, never mind! We'll go, George."

Tell Grace to make some of her delicious gingerbread."

We planned what we would take after George left, and in such homely talk I forgot to think of worrying about leaving Jack. There really was no reason why I should worry. He was well, Jennie trustworthy.

No thought of warning Jennie about anything, save my boy's food, and being careful he didn't get hurt by falling entered my mind. We would be home early, I would put him to bed. It was Saturday, and a noon day at fair.

Walter laughed at me a little for my cautions as it was, said he:

"If you had a dozen you wouldn't be so fussy. But a mother with one chick is a nuisance at times."

I had kept them waiting perhaps a minute.

We had a delightful time and reached home a little after five.

"Where's Jack?" I asked.

"A lady came, the young lady in Mr. Page's studio, and took him for a ride. She said she'd be back in an hour."

"What time did she take him?" I asked as quietly as I could. I felt myself turn white but Grace's hand on my arm steadied me.

"About three. Ma'am, right after I fed him."

"Walter," I asked, "did you tell Helen Ralstrom I was going? Did she know your mother was away?"

"Why, yes. I believe I mentioned both to her, why?"

"Don't you see?" I cried, "she knew Jackie would be with the servants! Oh, where has she taken my baby?"

"Keep hold of yourself," Grace cautioned. I saw her glance at Walter.

"Walter, where has she taken him? Why don't you say something? Do something? Who knows what has happened?" I was now trembling so I could scarcely stand. "Oh, why did I leave him?"

"There's no need to worry, Doreen," Walter said, but his voice sounded strange, forced. "Helen likes the little chap, will soon bring him back. I shouldn't know where to look if I went after them."

"Was it a taxi they went in?" Grace asked Jennie, who was weeping, declaring the lady said we would be glad to have him go for an airing when she objected.

"Yes Ma'am. A yellow one."

"Those careless taxi drivers!" I moaned running to the door and looking up and down the street.

"I'll telephone her aunt," Walter said, not looking at me.

"Do," Grace said. "She's probably stopped at home to show him to her aunt. It would be quite a natural thing to do," she added, taking my arm and leading me back into the hall.

"She's been there and gone," Walter said when he joined us. She'll probably be here in a few minutes. Try and calm yourself, Doreen. I'm sure Jack is all right."

"Did you ask when she left?" I asked.

"Yes, she left about 4 o'clock."

"Something has happened to my baby!" I almost screamed rushing out into the street.

This Is the Golden Age

OUR time is the greatest the world has ever seen. We have more to be happy with. We have better things, greater variety, keener comforts for our choosing, more conveniences to help us in our work, more things that elevate and entertain.

This is the day of better homes, better clothing, better babies, better health, better business. Compare any phase of our life with that of years ago and you will find that it is better.

And advertising is the instrument that makes most of these better things possible.

Advertising is the news of all the looms, all the furnaces, all the laboratories, all the shops, all the stores that are working, planning and building for you.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once would have been worth a king's ransom, are yours at little cost. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, manufacturer against manufacturer, for your benefit. This competition brings out the best there is in everything for your personal benefit.

You wouldn't know about many boons of modern life except through advertising. That is why you are not taking full advantage of the better things today if you consistently overlook the advertisements.

Read advertising and keep abreast
of the times
